

The Great Hall Activity Sheet

The Great Hall was opened in 1882 and housed Canterbury College's small library. It was used for public lectures and formal graduation ceremonies. A special feature of the building is the Memorial Window designed by Martin Travers and originally installed in 1938. It comprises of 4,000 individual pieces of glass.

1. Have a look at all the people in the stained glass window and use the information board to name 5 of them.

1.

2.

3.

4.

5.

2. What section of the stained glass window do you find most interesting? Draw a small sketch of it below

Show your completed sheet to the staff at the Rutherford's Den reception desk to receive a stamp for 30 minutes in your passport.